Porch Designer Kim Hendrickson-Radovich intended this posh outdoor space to function as a "summertime family room," complete with plenty of seating with poolside views, a cool-blue palette, and lots of pattern. A bright white paint by Benjamin Moore coats the moldings and tongue-and-groove beadboard ceiling. The innovative window treatment with removable walls and layered draperies gives the porch an indoor feel. All the outdoor furniture, including the white wicker sofa, matching lounge chairs, and laser-cut side table, is from Frontgate. The sisal area rug is from Stanton Carpet.